To whom it may concern:

I am pleased to write this letter recommending the fine work delivered by David and Santo Cimino of Stroudwater Construction, Inc. They were contracted to construct an office building on Northbrook Drive, Falmouth, ME and to do an extensive renovation project on my home in Falmouth, ME.

The father and son team offers years of construction experience and youthful enthusiasm. Santo and David's preparation, budgeting, sub contractor selection, and job site control are the key elements that allow their projects to run smoothly and on budget. They are professional, courteous, and responsive to all concerns and needs. David and Santo are involved in their projects on a daily basis, and employ highly qualified job superintendents who direct the job sites.

The Ciminos are capable of doing fine, detailed work required in a residential construction project, as well as, delivering an on time, on budget project required in commercial office construction. They involved me each step of the way, and were up front with issues or potential problems. Their vast experience and knowledge allowed for cost savings, while delivering a more attractive building.

The Ciminos are honest, ethical, and hard working. Their work speaks for itself. It is my pleasure to recommend them without reservation.

Very truly yours,

Arthur w. Batson, Jr.
