RE: Stroudwater Construction Company

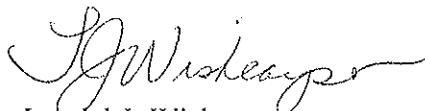

Dear Richard:

I understand you are considering Stroudwater Construction Company for your upcoming project. I wanted you to know that Stroudwater is currently building a new home for Carol and me, and that we are extremely pleased and impressed with them. Both Santo and David have spent countless hours with us and our architect during the planning process and their input was invaluable.

They are committed to the client's best interest and they are very service oriented. They work on an open book basis and their integrity is beyond reproach. David is the workhorse and he certainly knows what he is doing. Of course, you can count on Santo and his many years of experience in commercial construction to bring a lot of expertise to the table. They provided us with a top flight superintendent and David is involved in our project on a daily basis. This last point is one of the main reasons why we chose Stroudwater: We knew we would be dealing with the principals in the company rather than a staff person.

I am confident that you would be pleased if you choose Stroudwater Construction Company for your project.

Sincerely,

Lyndel J. Wishcamper
